

Reconstructed Walling

Garden walls are decorative and practical features. Boundary garden walls have become less common, being replaced by cheaper hedges and fences. You may want to build a small wall as part of a garden feature: a low wall beneath a fence; a raised water feature; a brick barbecue; raised beds; to make a base for a green house; or to retain soil as part of terracing your garden. Low walls are often needed around a patio and you may want to leave planting gaps to soften a wall. We stock a range of bricks, blocks and natural stone to accommodate any taste.